

Imogene Schroerlucke and her husband Jim have been dedicated volunteers every Wednesday for the past 12 years! Imogene's story with the House is anything but typical. She became a volunteer after her husband Jim was recruited to the House by the GE Retiree Volunteer Program. After just 3 weeks as a volunteer Imogene was recruited as a weekend manager! She was also immediately placed on the volunteer committee where she helped recruit and recognize other valuable volunteers. In her 12 year history with the House she has played the role of Volunteer Coordinator, Weekend and Relief Manager and House Manager. She has also served on the House Operations committee and she lovingly puts together the volunteer door prize every month.

When asked what she enjoyed most about volunteering at the House, Imogene had several things that came to mind, but her number one was the opportunity to serve families. She particularly enjoys spreading "friendly hellos" so that families feel welcome and encouraged. In addition to her work with the families, Imogene also looks forward to socializing with the staff and the other volunteers, who in her opinion are just like family to her and Jim.

Imogene shared that it "thrills her heart" when families who come back to visit remember her from their stays. Well Imogene, your heart is sure going to be thrilled because none of us could ever forget you!
